BODYLINE

For years the world of office chairs has been divided between upholstery, leather or mesh seating. Upholstery is comfortable and mesh breathes, keeping users comfortable in the harsh Australian climate.

Now there is a new option, combining the breathability of mesh with the comfort of upholstery and a brand new executive look.

The bodyline chair has a full range of built-in functions designed for ergonomic comfort and functionality in any application.

Chairs incorporate:

- Weight activated mechanism with tilt lock
- Gas height adjustable
- Free moving back, allowing for body movement while still maintaining ergonomic support
- Open back design, allows heat to be drawn away from the user
- Seat depth adjustment
- Moulded fire retardant seat foam
- Optional arms
- Colours black, orange and blue
